

50 People Who Are Changing the South in 2015

We surveyed the region to find the movers-and-shakers who are shaping the South with community-minded ideas and projects. From groundbreaking chefs to designers with a voice, these are the people you'll want to keep an eye on this year.

Square Feet Studio

Atlanta, Georgia

@sqftstudio

The team of seven architects and interior designers at Square Feet set the standard on Atlanta's special brand of rustic-meets-sleek restaurant and retail design that inform the rest of the region with spots like Kimball House, Sid Mashburn, and The General Muir. Coming this year is a new Little Tart Bakeshop, The Cockentrice, and Staplehouse—highly anticipated restaurants that no doubt will be as beautiful as they are tasty.

PHOTO: COURTESY ANDREW THOMAS LEE